Looking for a bargain?

If you're looking for a bargain, head for Romulus High School tonight.

That's where the Romulus Athletic Boosters will hold their auction, "and there are plenty of bargains," said Junior Block, who will be playing the role of auctioneer. "We have 10-speed bikes, Hudson's has donated a chair, and almost everyone in the area has come up with something.

"If you want a bargain, be there tonight," Block reiterated.

The auction will get underway at 6 p.m. Monies raised from the project will be donated to the Booster Club to help defray the costs of high school athletics this year.

CAP has busy schedule

It's been a very busy month for the Romulus-Wayne Civil Air Patrol. Squadron members traveled to Cheboyan to take part in a practice search and rescue mission. Also, some of the CAP members participated in the Willow Run Air show.

CAP will hold a car wash on Sat., June 26 at the Security Bank on Wayne Rd., between the I-94 Expressway and Wick Road.

"We would also like our people to know that we have a new meeting place. We will be meeting at the Romulus City Hall," said 2nd Lt. Juanita Marventino.

Teen-agers, 13 to 18, are welcomed to the organization which will hold its meetings from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Rec. Director seeks parade participants

Dennis Davidson, Romulus Parks and Recreation Director, is seeking floats and bands that wish to participate in the city's annual 4th of July Parade.

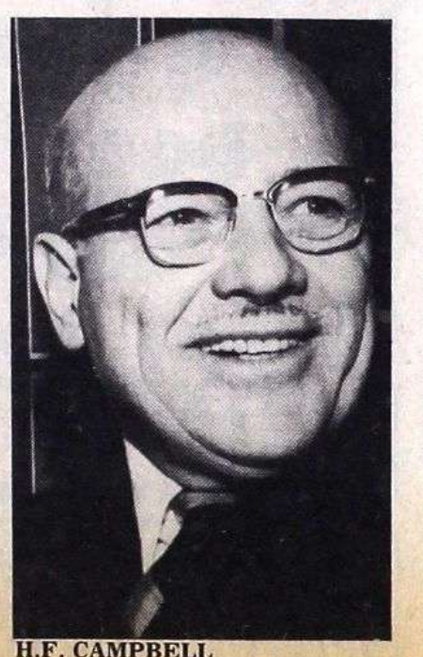
The parade will be held on July 3, beginning at 11 a.m., and will start from City Hall and meander down Goodard Rd. to Kennedy Park. There will be a County Fair at 1 p.m. at Elmer Johnson Park, and and Indian Dance show at 1:30 p.m.

"We have a lot of programs planned for the holidays," Davidson said, "but we can always use others."

Those interested should contact Davidson at the Parks and Recreation offices at 941-0666.

Campbell joins DetRo camp

Prominent builder offers to construct sludge plant



H.F. CAMPBELL

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

DetRo Recovery Inc. has apparently found a strong ally in its plans to build a compost-to-fertilizer plant in the City of Romulus. Prominent Belleville builder, H.F. Campbell appeared before the City Planning Commission Monday night to present an alternative site plan for the controversial plant.

Upon hearing from Campbell, the 9-man Planning Commission Board voted unanimously to table Campbell's application because of pending litigation between the city and DetRo Recovery.

"We are in litigation with DetRo," said Donald Treder, chairman of the board, "and until that litigation is resolved, we can't move on your application. I move to table this until the litigation with DetRo is over."

Campbell has come before the board with a site plan that involved turning an 82-acre parcel of land located parallel to the I-94 Expressway, between Vining and Wayne Rd., into a sludge plant.

Campbell reportedly owns approximately 50 acres of the land.

DetRo has taken the City of Romulus to court in order to break a deadlock in the issuance of a construction permit. DetRo has proposed to build on a 102-acre parcel, immediately east of the Municipal Complex.

The court battle is entering its second year, with no solution in sight.

Campbell proposes to build the plant for DetRo; however, the Planning Commissioners quickly pointed out that because of the ongoing court battle, dialogue had to be tabled.

Campbell urged the commissioners to reconsider.

"We are builders and we feel that this is good use of this property," Campbell said. "We did a lot of work in Romulus...and my application has nothing to do with the lawsuit."

Campbell has built the Federal Screw and the DST Industries complex in the city. He has a long list of accomplishments to boast of; however, the commissioners reiterated their stand — that the litigation prevented them from discussing the project.

After the Planning Commission tabled the application, Campbell asked for and received a "few moments of the commissioners' time."

"I'm not a resident of Romulus," he informed the members. "I'm a neighbor. A very close neighbor. I am disgusted when I see a community torn apart from within because of all the controversy this project has stirred up. This project has merit.

"Somewhere along the line this project has taken on a political, perhaps an emotional, connotation and that isn't good," Campbell continued. "It isn't good for the community — for any of us, not for me as a landowner or for the constituents of this community.

"My hope would be to try to unify this community — not to tear it apart," Campbell added. "In this day and age we need more cooperation, rather than confrontation. Now, as a matter of fact, this body could accomplish this goal.

"If the site is approved and the other sites are abandoned, we can then be in a position to say that you have prevailed. DetRo's operation would be moved from your fine Community site."

Barry Baumann, the City Council's liaison to the Planning Commission, asked Campbell if "DetRo were no longer interested in the other two sites?" Campbell replied that "if my application is approved, the applications of the two other sites can be abandoned, I'm sure."

Campbell went on to assure the commissioners that the operation he is proposing would be "constructive and not objectionable in any way from a standpoint of contamination to the atmosphere, as well as to water and earth."

Campbell offered to meet individually outside the council chambers with each commissioner to explain the facts; however, that offer was immediately turned down by the commission.

"I believe if you have anything to say to any member of this commission then it should be said inside these chambers," replied DuWayne Martin.

Frustrated, Campbell answered, "Then am I to understand that my application cannot be considered until the court case with DetRo has been resolved?"

Treder replied: "This is our recommendation."

Sewer project — progress?

Council votes to go ahead with Wick Road project

Should the City of Romulus construct a sewer on Wick Road to open up lands for development in the Wick Road area?

Romulus Mayor William Oakley definitely feels that it is time to begin construction on the sewer system, which he says would be an invitation to industrial developers.

The projected cost of the system runs from $250,000 to $300,000.

"I believe that this city must move forward and develop the area," said Mayor Oakley arguing for the project. In his memorandum to City Council, the mayor also pointed out:

"We are all aware of the significance of Wick Road, between Wayne and Wickham to the over-all development of our city. A very important factor in the development of Wick Road is the establishment of the utilities.

"On May 6, I met with the members of our Public Works Committee and discussed the potential of establishing the sanitary sewer on Wick between Wickham and the eastern boundaries of the Wynclift Subdivision.

"And I believe that we are now in a position to prepare specifications and let bids for the establishment of the sanitary sewer. The members of the Public Works Committee who were present at the meeting (May 8) concurred with this idea.

"It is my recommendation that our city engineers, Wade Trim and Associates, be authorized to prepare specifications, bid documents and let the bids," the mayor concluded.

Although Mayor Oakley received Council approval to go ahead with the project, three councilmen, Jimmie Raspberry, John Lewkowicz and Barry Baumann rejected the recommendation.

"I may agree about this city moving forward," said Raspberry, "and I may agree about developing the area and progress — however, at whose expense?

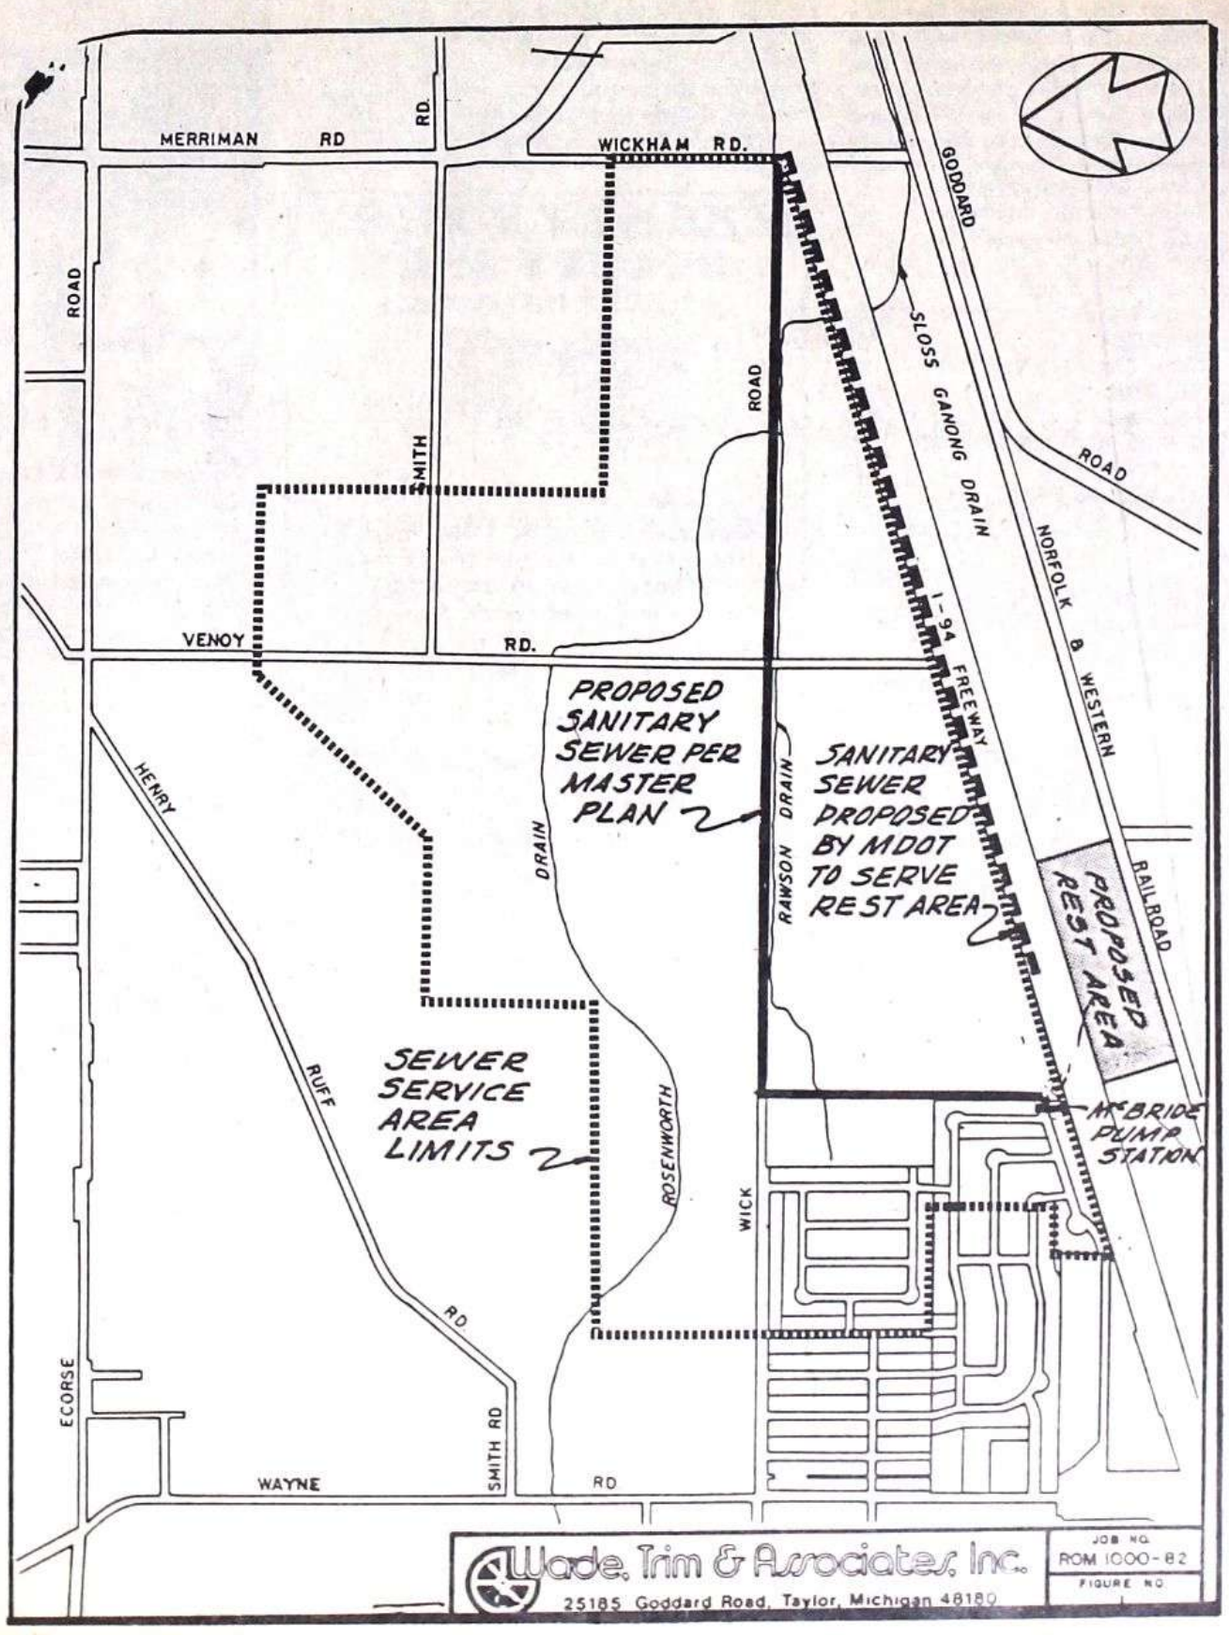
"There are people right now in this city who have paid for, or are paying for sewers they never got — what do I tell them?" Raspberry asked.

Lewkowicz said that he turned down the recommendation because of the ailing economy.

"The present economy doesn't warrant such an expenditure on the part of this city," Lewkowicz said.

"And I agree (with Raspberry) that there are too many homeowners who have paid for sewers for the past 30 years and still don't have sewer lines alongside their homes.

"I sincerely feel that the city should satisfy the needs of our community and the citizens who have paid for these services before we expand into areas where there are only a few homes," Lewkowicz concluded.



Scouts to hold car wash

Boy Scout Troop 754 from Quirk School will hold a Bake Sale and Car Wash between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., on Sat., June 26.

RCBDA honors young artists

The Romulus Central Business District Association will honor three talented artists during its meeting and dinner scheduled for 6:30 p.m., Thursday at the Hilton Inn.

The artists: Randy Hogue, Andrea Hughes and Bernie Solo painted a huge mural that decorates the exterior wall of a local auto supply shop. Sols also recently was the recipient of a $75 Savings Bond for the winning design of the RCBDA's logo.

The program will also include a solo performance by talented Toni Simonds, who is studying music in Arlington, Texas.

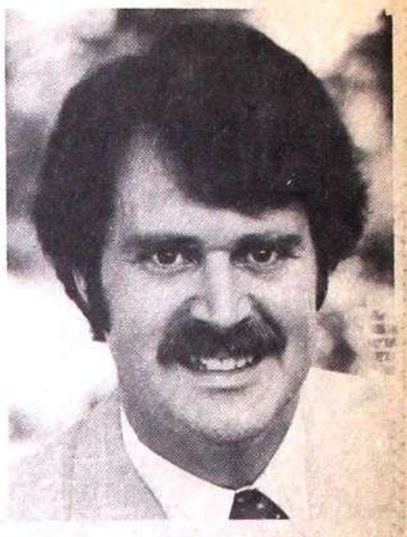
Canton trustee seeks county commissioner's job



LORNE BENNETT

Canton Township Trustee Lorne Bennett, 31, has filed petitions with the Wayne County Clerk seeking the County Commissioner's seat in the eleventh district. The decision to seek office, according to Bennett, was made during the weekend.

"I've grown up in Canton Township. As long as I can remember I've heard people talk of the inability of Wayne County Government to function in a manner for the betterment of Canton Township. I feel this is a unique opportunity for change," Bennett said.

Bennett, a lifelong resident of the township is married and he and his wife, Terry, are the parents of a daughter, Wendy, 3½. He has served on the Township board for two years and is the owner of a real estate office located in Washtenaw County. "I do all my business in Washtenaw, so there is no chance for any conflict of interest," Bennett explained.

He is a graduate of Belleville High School and attended Schoolcraft Community College for two years.

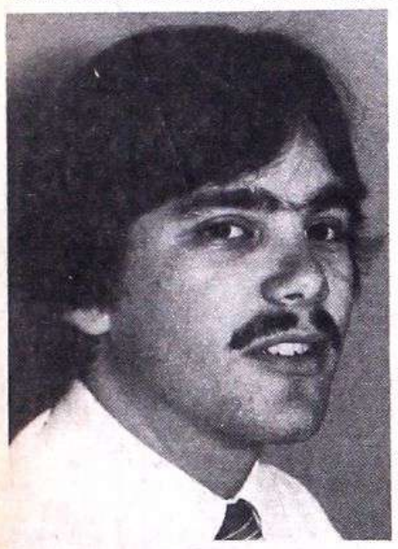
"It is no secret that the Wayne County form of government includes a tremendous amount of 'favors' done. I owe no one anything. I am not part of the establishment down there. I sincerely believe we've got to have new blood and fresh ideas in the county level. We need people who don't owe favors to anyone and I'm that person," Bennett said.

Bennett explained that his objectives, should his candidacy be successful would be to implement the same dollar saving techniques he has learned in business. "The real estate market is so tight we've had to learn to conserve funds. We can't waste a dime. I'd like to transfer that expertise to the county.

"It is my belief that when you project to take in $10, you should budget to spend less for fear your projection on income may be wrong. If your revenue projection is then correct, you end with a surplus rather than a deficit which in my opinion is a better position to be in," Bennett concluded.

The eleventh district includes Canton Township, Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township, Huron Township, Rockwood, Flat Rock, Belleville, Wayne, and Romulus.

D'Angelo also jumps into commissioner's race



EDWARD D'ANGELO

Belleville resident Edward D'Angelo has joined the long list of prospective candidates for the newly-established 11th Wayne County Commissioner's District.

"I am seeking the Democratic nomination for the office of Wayne County Commissioner, because I want to become directly involved in the functioning of Wayne County government. Wayne County government has not functioned effectively in recent years, and as a result voters voted in favor of a new county charter in 1981. It is important that the voters of Wayne County move now — with the new county charter in hand — to build a new and more effective Wayne County government, by carefully choosing their representatives in county government," Angelo said.

He pointed out three things the voters should look for in a candidate for this office: good educational background, relevant work experience, and expertise which this person, he said, can bring to the legislative branch of Wayne County government.

D'Angelo has a bachelors degree from the Ohio State University, and a masters degree from the university of Michigan, where he specialized in policy and planning.

"For the past three years, I have been employed with the Institute for Research and Evaluation, Inc., where I work as a Legislative and Planning Analyst. Specifically, my work has included program planning, research and evaluation, budgeting, analyses of legislative proposals, and legislative research. I have been involved in the cutting of budgets, making programs more accountable, and more cost effective. I have experience in the reorganization of local government, and health service delivery systems, which result in considerable savings to the taxpayer," he said.

There are a number of issues D'Angelo will address if elected the next County Commissioner from the district.

First, every resource at his disposal will be used to bring more jobs to Wayne County.

Second, faster snow removal, improvement of flooded areas and repairing of potholes will be considered.The solution, to a large degree, is to cut the administrative overhead at the Wayne County Road Commision, and to direct more funds to actual road servicing and repairs, he added.

"Third, residents in the district are concerned with the adequacy of available police, fire, and emergency medical services, in their communities. These services can mean the difference between life and death, and those with the responsibility of protecting us must have adequate resources to work with.

"Fourth, I am concerned about the elderly of this area. The security of the elderly, the fastest growing age group in this country today, must be assured.

"Finally, I believe that the key issue in this campaign is the functioning of Wayne County government. The voters are demanding better services, and reduced taxes. I am running for this office because I know I can do the job which so desperately needs to be done. The people of this county, and specifically, the people of this district, deserve the best county government possible, and I am determined that they will get it.

"I welcome comments and suggestions from the voters of Wayne County, and especially those in the new 11th District, regarding the issues they would like me to address in the campaign ahead. I intend to run the kind of positive and energetic campaign that reflects well on all residents of Wayne County. I would like to invite Wayne County residents to join in this effort, to revitalize Wayne County government," D'Angelo concluded.

SEMTA fares to increase on July 1

Passenger fares for all Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) large and small buses will increase an average of 21 percent on Thursday, July 1, 1982.

The higher fares are necessitated by escalating operating expenses and are an essential part of SEMTA's overall strategy to maintain as much service as possible despite diminishing federal and state subsidies.

SEMTA Board approval of the new fares was preceded by a series of 10 public hearings held throughout the region, including five in Wayne County. Modifications to the originally proposed increases were made after analyzing passengers' and public officials' comments and suggestions.

In addition to the public hearings, SEMTA surveyed 6,000 commuters by mail to find out whether they supported or opposed the fare increases as proposed. A quarter of the commuters queried returned completed questionnaires. Nearly 80 percent of those who responded said they were willing to pay a higher fare if it meant that service on their route would be maintained.

Fares for students were not increased and, in an effort to lessen the gap between commuter rail and bus fares and thus encourage passengers on crowded Woodward buses to use commuter rail service, there was also no increase in commuter rail fare. In fact, a change in the commuter rail zone charge will actually result in a five cent decrease in commuter rail fare.

The new fares are:

From Belleville to Albion

Nearly 230 Michigan high school juniors and seniors participated in the 29th annual Michigan Farm Bureau Young People's Citizenship Seminar June 14-18 at Albion College in Albion. During the five-day seminar, sponsored jointly by the Michigan Farm Bureau and its county organizations, students participated in a mock election process, learned about America's systems of government, democracy and the American free market enterprise. Representing Wayne County at the seminar were, left to right, James Budd of Belleville and Todd Stover, Westland.

Landfill waste permit to face court battle

While officials of the Department of Natural Resources prepare to hold a site approval meeting in Sumpter Township, Sumpter Township officials are preparing to present legal briefs to the court to challenge City Sand and Landfill's application for a hazardous waste permit.

The Hazardous Waste Management Facility Site Approval Board of the State of Michigan earlier this week announced that it will hold an organizational meeting to establish a timetable for consideration of the construction permit application submitted by Environmental Management System, Inc. for City Sand and Landfill.

The meeting is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. today at the Sumpter Township Hall, 23480 Sumpter Road.

According to DNR officials, the proposed hazardous waste landfill will be located at 46805 Will Road in Sumpter Township. The proposed hazardous waste landfill has been attacked by township board supervisor James Reves and members of the township board who are preparing to challenge Public Act 64 and PA 641. The laws pave the way for the hazardous waste permits without local approval, giving the authority to the state.

The Hazardous Waste Management Facility Site Approval Board consists of five permanent members, two representatives of Sumpter Township, and two representatives of Wayne County.

A press release from the DNR stated that "at this meeting the board will consider adoption of operating procedures for its future meetings. The operating procedures will include at least one public hearing where the public will be invited to comment on the proposal. The public hearing will be published at least 30 days prior to the meeting in the Belleville Enterprise."

The Site Approval Board has the final authority to grant or deny the construction permit application. Their final decision regarding the proposal must be made by October 20, 1982.

The complete application package may be reviewed at the Office of Hazardous Waste Management, 8th floor, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan and also at the Sumpter Township Hall, 23480 Sumpter Rd. Copies of the complete application package may be ordered from the Office of Hazardous Waste Management.

Star Wars' Yoda captures 1st place in Festival contest

They were contemporary and scary. Beautiful and frightful. Innovative and not so innovative.

They were youngsters who put "their hearts" into making paper mache masks and entered the annual Strawberry Festival contest.

And, if there was anything that spoiled it for the youngsters it was the incessant rains early Saturday morning that forced the contestants from the outdoor stage into the confined areas of the Belleville Enterprise and Chamber of Commerce offices where the judging took place.

You name it, the kids made masks for it:

"Yoda from Star Wars, Strawberry Shortcake, Garfield, Smurfet, they were exceptional" remarked contest judge Tom Mooradian, Managing Editor of the Associated Newspapers which includes the Belleville Enterprise. Also joining in the decision making were Strawberry Festival President Ted Center and Leona VanBuhler, Festival Secretary.

The winners in the four-and-five year old category are: first place Melissa Norton as Smurfet; second Amanda Ward as Snoopy, and third Tony Lovetro, The Big Bad Wolf.

The six to ten year olds were: first place Stephanie Garrett as Strawberry Shortcake; second place Joey Wagner as Garfield the Cat; third place Jessica Lovetro, Little Red Riding Hood. Other entries included Rachael Lovetro as Grandma and Karen Ober the Cute Monster.

The 13-to-15 year old entries included first place Yoda from Star Wars by Kristin Gray; Animal from the Muppet Movie by Bruce Nigg in second place, and third place Minnie Mouse created by Brenda McHargue.

Mike Roullier was the Crazy Alien and Wayne Hagle appeared as Mickey Mouse.

The 13 children who braved the weather, masks in hand, were presented ribbons and prizes furnished by Baskin Robbins, Burger Chef, Little Caesars, Chuck E. Cheese, McDonalds, Burger King, Armstrongs' Fun-Land, and the Belleville-Van Buren Area Chamber of Commerce.

Helping to make the contest a success were Linda Wickham, Jim Fitch, Ray Schultz and Belleville Librarian Kaye Grabbe who invites the public to stop in the Fred C. Fischer Library to see the masks on display.

This 'thing' out of the past didn't need the tracks

Easter Seal child

Tamara won't forget excitement of 1982

Easters may come and go but little Tamara McCutcheon will probably never forget the Easter of 1982.

For it was this year that Tamara, 6, the granddaughter of a former Belleville couple, was chosen as the 1982 Easter Seal Child. She was picked to represent the counties near New Port Richey, Fla.

A victim of cerebral palsy since 1978, Tamara has been able to adapt herself to the handicap. She is involved in extensive therapy and attends classes for the physically impaired.

Tamara, as the Easter Seal Child, has participated in commercials and guest appearances to help raise funds to combat the dreaded disease.

Tamara is the daughter of JoAnn McCutcheon and grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCloskey. The McCloskeys and their daughter left Belleville in 1970 to move to New Port Richey. Tamara has a 3-year-old brother.

Tamara also has a host of relatives living in the Belleville area, including an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James McCloskey, and their three children. Mrs. James McCloskey is the former Patti Gorney of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Gorney, also of Belleville.

Petition drive spearheaded to 'freeze taxes'

In an effort to convince the state legislators that "something has to be done now about taxes," Romulus and Huron Township officials spearheaded a petition drive to urge legislation that would "freeze state taxes at the 1981 level for a period of one year."

"We have gathered over 1,700 signatures," said Raymond Cantrell, Romulus City Clerk, "requesting that our lawmakers in Lansing listen to what the people here have to say about taxes."

Letters were mailed to State Reps. Gary Owen and Edward Malahak as well as Senator William Faust. The letter states, in part:

"Enclosed you will find 1,707 signatures from Romulus citizens as well as citizens from other neighboring communities in protest of the recent State Equalized Value increases.

"The language composed in the petition suggests there be a tax freeze of the SEV at the 1981 level and alternative formulas in the school financing should be developed.

"Romulus citizens, as well as citizens in other communities, are feeling the economic crunch of our nation. We feel that while government at the local level are tightening their financial belts in attempting to maintain services to residents within their communities the same effort is not being applied at the county and state levels.

We feel that while governments at the local level are tightening their financial belts in attempting to maintain services to residents within their communities the same effort is not being applied at the county and state levels.

"During this time of soaring unemployment, outrageous interest rates and the fact that many citizens are on the verge of losing their homes because of the reasons mentioned above, to impose additional taxes on our citizens is out of the question," the letter concluded.

The petition that the more than 1,700 citizens signed stated that: "We the undersigned protest to the state of Michigan as to the recent State Equalized Value increase. To burden the Michigan homeowner further, especially during the depressed economic period we are experiencing, is very untimely and can't be justified. We petition the State of Michigan to freeze taxes at the 1981 level for a period of one year while a different formula is developed for the determination of property values.

"Further, we petition the State of Michigan to exert a concentrated effort to develop alternative methods in school financing."

Ground breaking ends 10-year wait for church

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

Construction of a new $1.3 million headquarters for Wayne Bank in downtown Wayne is set to begin following groundbreaking ceremonies Tuesday morning.

Upon completion of the facility, scheduled for March 1, 1983, the present bank building and surrounding land will become the property of the First United Methodist Church of Wayne, according to an agreement ratified Monday.

church officially owning the bank facility on March 1, 1983 at a cost of some $300,000, Mr. Jacobs reported.

"This (pact) basically confirms an agreement reached in 1974," he added. "All of us are excited with this — it allows the church to contribute materially to enhance the downtown development project.

"Part of the success of this agreement is due to the efforts of Mayor (Patrick) Norton, Dave Willett and other key personalities."

Norton, who acted as intermediary during the negotiations involving Wayne Bank, First United Methodist

"In a turned down economy anything built is a positive move, especially something as important as a bank. It's good for the downtown area and I believe it will generate more activity along Michigan Avenue."
Wayne Mayor Patrick Norton

The new one-story bank structure will be located due north of the current main office at 35215 Park (corner of Biddle) and will feature the latest in banking technology, including automatic tellers and drive-in services, Bank President Ray Reame noted. It will encompass some 13,000 square feet as compared to 6,000 square feet at the facility which has served as the bank's headquarters since 1955.

"We've made a commitment to Wayne and hope that others will feel the same way about this city," declared Reame. "This project has been a long time coming. Poor economic times have made it difficult to proceed but now we must do something to keep serving the growth we are enjoying."

Rev. Charles Jacobs, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Wayne, said the acquisition of the bank facility is a part of the church's expansion plans.

"Our immediate plans are to use the building as an educational and social facility," Mr. Jacobs explained. "Eventually we will build an addition to the church."

An agreement signed Monday provides for the Church and the City of Wayne, recalled the first discussions involving the construction project.

"It was in 1972 or '73 and the church was considering locating elsewhere in new facilities," Norton explained. "I was concerned and knew that the bank was thinking of expanding. Putting the two together was a way of solving both needs.

"This turned out to be the most difficult promotional project I've ever been involved with," he added. "In a turned down economy anything built is a positive move, especially something as important as a bank. It's good for the downtown area and I believe will generate more activity along Michigan Avenue."

Willett, chairman of the church's Building Finance Committee and its chief negotiator for the project, termed the purchase of the bank building "a historic moment in the life of the First United Methodist Church of Wayne and an important moment for the entire community."

"Members of the building committee at the church have logged an incredible amount of hours to bring

Paving the way

On Monday representatives of the Wayne Bank and the First United Methodist Church formally approved an agreement that paves the way for the church to assume ownership of the present Wayne Bank facility in downtown Wayne on March 1, 1982, the date set for completion of the new bank headquarters on a site due north of the present facility. Present for the signing were Rev. Charles Jacobs (seated left), pastor of the church; Ray Reame, bank president; Mayor Patrick Norton; David Willett (standing left), church Finance Crusade chairman; Thomas Daily, city manager, and Dave Dillingham, church building committee member and former chairman of the building committee. — ANP photo about what has just been accomplished," Willett declared. "For close to 10 years we have been meeting every month, planning, discussing, debating and voting on various aspects of the sale and our specific building plans. What has been a dream is becoming a reality.

"Few times in the history of a church does a congregation have an opportunity to plan, finance and construct a building to serve its present and future needs. It's exciting to be a part of such an opportunity and I'm looking forward to our future groundbreaking."

The Wayne Bank, founded in 1953, operates two branches in Canton Township in addition to its downtown headquarters.

County Commissioner challenges San Diego to 'Buy American'

Wayne County Commissioner Richard E. Manning is looking forward to winning — for the county — a case of California oranges as the result of a "Buy American" challenge issued to San Diego county, California this week.

Manning, in his one-man struggle to get grass-roots support for his "Buy American" campaign, learned late last week that San Diego County had launched a similar project February 3rd seeking to convince communities within the county to support the purchase of American products made by American workers.

Manning, in a letter to John L. Sweeten, Legislative Coordinator of the San Diego County Board, has challenged that county to a race to determine which of the two counties can enlist the most communities within their respective states to support the "Buy American" program.

Thus, far, Manning said he has commitments from nine county communities to support his resolution and the prospect of a 100 percent participation as each board and council acts on the proposal.

"Since the federal government can't seem to get its act together," Manning explained, "I've launched this grass-roots campaign in hopes of saving our businesses and our jobs by appealing to local units of government to buy only those products made by Americans in America.

"Here in Michigan," Manning wrote to Sweeten, "I am circulating copies of our resolution to all 82 sister counties and the 43 communities in Wayne County. Nine of the cities and townships have followed suit to date. Numerous others have the matter on the agenda for consideration.

"I can also report," continued Manning's letter, "inquiries from counties in New Yor, New Jersey, Indiana, Illinois, and Georgia. Legislators in Michigan have also shown an interest.

"Let me issue a friendly challenge to the great county of San Diego to see how close we can come to full participation of our counties and communities before January 1st, 1982. We will match a crate of our best Michigan cherries against San Diego's oranges for a prize."

Pilots, navigators sought for OTS

The Air Force is seeking more than 3,800 college graduates or near graduates to enter Officer Training School during 1983, according to Technical Sergeant Jim Cole, Air Force officer recruiter here.

"Nearly 1,200 pilot and more than 700 navigator trainees are included in this figure, as well as 650 engineers," said TSgt Cole.

College students within nine months of graduating or recent graduates are encouraged to apply.

Pilot applicants without private pilot's licenses attend a three-week flight screening program designed to acquaint them with fundamentals of flying. Applicants attend a 12-week officer training school at Lackland Air Force Base, near San Antonio, Texas.

After graduation from OTS, pilot selectees are assigned to one of seven undergraduate pilot training locations in Alabama, Arizona, Texas, Mississippi, or Oklahoma for an extensive flight training program up to 55 weeks in length. Navigator selectees attend 29 weeks of school at Mather Air Force Base, near Sacramento, Calif.

For complete details on all the officer programs, contact TSgt Cole at 23400 Michigan Ave., Dearborn, or call 561-8057.

Vets' numbers decline

The number of living U.S. veterans will decrease by about 40 percent during the next 50 years, according to data released by the Veterans Administration.

The total veteran population, assuming no future U.S. involvement in armed conflict, will fall from the current level of 30 million to about 18.2 million by the year 2030.

Michigan is expected to have 818,600 veterans in 2030 and their average age will be 53.2 It now has 1,167,000 veterans.

The aged veteran population will grow dramatically during the next 20 years. Veterans 65 and older will increase from the present 3.2 million to nearly 9.2 million before the turn of the century.

The data is prepared by the VA to plan for future programs and benefits. By the year 2030 the number of war veterans will be substantially reduced with the bulk of all veterans being ex-service personnel who served during peacetime.

County commissioners leaving posts for 'rash of reasons'

In January, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners drops from 27 members to 15, but apart from that change required by a new County charter, several commissioners are leaving the Board because of retirement or preference for other public office.

Those retiring from the Board at the end of this year are all from Detroit. They include George F. Killeen, now representing District Three on Detroit's eastside; Rose Mary C. Robinson, representing District Nine in central and part of southwest Detroit; Maxcine Young, representing westside Detroit in District 11 and John J. Korney, District 17 in northwest Detroit.

Serving his seventh consecutive two-year term, Killeen is considered the "Dean" of the Board and is the second -most senior elected official of the County. He is the only remaining charter member of the elected Board of Commissioners since it evolved from the former Board of Supervisors, which was appointed.

Maxcine Young, the Board Chaplain and liaison person for senior citizen affairs, is concluding a career of public service beginning with the State Legislature in 1958. She served in the Legislature through 1966 and was elected to the Board of Commissioners in 1975, representing District 11 in westside Detroit.

One commissioner, James J. Rashid from Dearborn, is a candidate for the State Senate. He is running in District 10, opposing incumbent George Z. Hart, a former County Commissioner.

Seven other commissioners are campaigning for State Representative. Among them is Clemens E. Bykowski, who is already victorious in a special Democratic primary for the seat in District 3 vacated by Casmer Ogonowski in March. Bykowski was vice-chairman of the Board and represented a Commissioner District in northwest Detroit.

Edward K. Michalski is another candidate for State Representative, one who would return to the Legislature after serving previously for six years in three consecutive terms from 1960 through 1965. He has been a member of the Board of Commissioners for ten years consecutively since elected in Nov., 1972. He wants to represent District 11 in the Legislature.

Former Board Chairman Jarrette Simmons, the only female ever to hold that position as an elected official, is campaigning for representative in the new District 14. All the districts this year are new, based on census data compiled every 10 years with boundary changes required according to redistribution of population and state statute.

The others include:

* R. William Joyner, from Plymouth, competing in District 36 for State Representative. Joyner began his service on the Board of Commissioners in 1978, and is a member of the Human Resources Committee.

* William J. Runco, a candidate in District 31 and a member of the Board's General Government Committee. He began his elected political career with the Board of Commissioners in 1981 and is still serving in his first term.

Regardless of election results, none of the above will return to the Board of Commissioners for the session beginning in January 1983. In addition, four others will not return because they are competing against other commissioners, all of them incumbents.

In District One in eastside Detroit, opponents are Commissioners Norbert Wisniewski and Ervin A. Steiner, Jr.; Clarence R. Young and Paul G. Citkowski are competitors in District Five in central and southwest Detroit; and William G. Suzore and William Sullivan are opposed downriver in District 14.

With other changes in January, 1983, Wayne County will have a new Chief Executive Officer to lead executive affairs and will determine its fiscal policy without the existing three -member County Board of Auditors.

Bus roadeo

Three Wayne County school bus drivers were among 39 persons who competed recently in Lansing in the fifth annual Michigan Championship School Bus Roadeo. The purpose of the behind -the- wheel event, cosponsored by the Automobile Club of Michigan and the Michigan Association of Pupil Transportation, was to test the drivers' ability in handling different traffic safety situations on a prescribed obstacle course. Regional winners competing were (left to right): Donna Eberhardt, a Romulus resident and driver for Huron Schools; Kay Beacham, a Canton resident and driver for Plymouth -Canton Schools, and Sharon Kelems, a New Boston resident and driver for Huron Schools. Also shown is Auto Club's Safety Education Supervisor Jerry Basch, roadeo organizer. Jo Ellyn Meyers, a driver for Fennville Public Schools, won the state title and will represent Michigan next month in Kansas City in the National School Bus Roadeo.

YMCA day camps set

The Day CAmp program is especially designed to meet the needs of younger childrend and will include such activities as arts and crafts, nature lore, groups games and swimming at the YMCA pool daily.

Special day programs include all camp activities, cook-outs, and Parents' Night Program at Lower Huron Park.

College seeks citizen input

WCCC to hold meeting

Citizens of Western Wayne County interested in meeting with the Area Seven Citizens Advisory Council of Wayne County Community College, may do so Thursday, June 24, at noon, at the College's Western Center in Belleville.

To better inform citizens of western Wayne County about the Western Center's Building Operations Management Program, Chuck Draper, Program Director, will be this month's guest speaker. The program, which is unique to Wayne County Community College among community colleges and four-year universities across the state, prepares students to diagnose physical problems of large building and edifices, by giving students basic knowledge in several different building trades, heating and cooling systems and supervising skills.

The Area Seven Citizens Advisory Council (ACAC 7) a region of the college's county-wide Citizens Advisory Council (CAC), currently meets each month at the Western Center of Wayne County Community College, 9555 Haggerty Road.

Channeling information from the community to the area's elected Trustee and staff of the college, as well as transmitting information about the college's policies and programs is the purpose of the ACAC 7.

Wayne County Community College encourages citizens to attend the meetings at the Western Center. For additional information you may call Sharon Young, Community Coordinator, at 699-0200.

Traffic offenses are becoming more of a problem today, especially those related to drinking. There are primarily two such offenses:

1. operating a vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquor (abbreviated O.U.I.L., formerly D.U.I.L.) and;

2. operating a vehicle while visibly impaired (abbreviated O.V.I.). The penalties are severe and are not to be taken lightly.

For a first offense O.U.I.L. conviction it is a misdeameanor and punishable by imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or a fine of a minimum of $100 to a maximum of $500 or both plus court costs.

For a second offense O.U.I.L. conviction it also is a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonab

For a second offense O.U.I.L. conviction it also is a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonment for not less than 1 year nor more than 5 years, or by a fine of not less than $500.00 nor more than $5000.00, or by both.

In addition to the above penalties, the court shall order that your driver's license be suspended by the secretary of state for a period of not more than two years and that six points be added to your driving record.

Be careful; consider the hazards before you drink and drive. Remember, IF YOU MUST DRIVE DON'T DRINK and IF YOU DRINK DON'T DRIVE.

Standing behind "Daiquiri", a steer purchased by Beth Herring thanks to Robert Reau's generosity, are two winners no matter what the outcome of the annual Wayne County Fair. Beth acquired a loan from Reau, the owner of Detroit Drop Die, to purchase the steer calf and will repay her benefactor after the sale of the animal which will be shown during the Fair in Belleville scheduled for the week of Aug. 9 through Aug. 14.

Belleville's County Fair's coming

Beth's steer groomed to become champ

A long-time area business, Detroit Drop Die, likes to remain involved in community projects and affairs. And their owner is also involved in the Wayne County 4-H Livestock Sponsorship Program.

Robert Enau, who is the owner of the company, will be represented at this year's fair thanks to his generous loan to young and enthusiastic Beth Herring of Judd Rd. Beth borrowed the money to purchase her market steer calf last fall and she will show this steer at the annual Wayne County Fair in Belleville during the week of Aug. 9 to 14.

On Aug. 12, at 6 p.m., Beth's market steer, probably weighing in at around 1300 pounds or more, will be sold at the Fair Livestock Auction and Reau will be repaid his loan.

Beth cannot repay his kindness to her for becoming involved in this program, or his interest in the progress of her animal.

She says she appreciates very much his willingness to help out a 4-Her with this important Livestock Sponsorship Program which not only promotes 4-H and community business interaction but encourages businesses and area residents to support the 4-H auction and livestock projects.

The kids work very hard to get these fine animals fit and ready for Fair and in tip top condition as market prospects.

Beth is in her 10th year of 4-H participation in the horse, livestock, and health projects. She has been a member of the Horse and Livestock Judging Teams representing Wayne County, and is a member of the Mustangers 4-H club.

Beth also has competed on local and state levels in Livestock and Horse shows. Last fall she won a trip to the International Livestock Exposition in Louisville, Kentucky, for her involvement in the Michigan Livestock Expo at Michigan State University in late August.

She was named Belleville Area Outstanding 4-Her by the Belleville Rotary Club at their November meeting last fall, based on her 4-H experiences, leadership and participation in the varied activities connected with her 4-H interests.

She is keeping Reau informed Belleville High School, involved in school sports and maintains a straight A average in school.

She is keeping REau informed of her progress with her steer.

And is also busy fattening up a market lamb and market swine to show at the Fair. She and her animals hope that the community will flock to the Fair to see them all dolled up for some exciting competition in the show ring!

37 never missed a day

Thirty-seven students at South Junior High School in Belleville garnered perfect attendance records during the school year of 1981-82, according to statistics released this week by school officials.

The students are:

Lori Alexander, Crystal Arquette, Craig Banotai, Bonnie Bennett, Tammy Bos, Tracy Brady, Roger Brown, Sherry Collino, Samuel Druker, Darrel Elder and Tracie Ferrell.

Melissa Florian, Theresa Garascia, Ronald Goff, Darryl Goodwin, Debbie Hurley, Ronald Kobish, Darlene Loyer, Cari Lucas, Iris McLeod, Yvonne McLeod and Lisa McNeil.

Mark Melidosian, Jeffrey Miller, William Moore, Thaddeus Nelson, Shane Newton, Lillian Parks, Nicole Patton, Jeanine Rosinski, Scott Small, Vicci Stamps, Hans Thomas, Carolyn Walters, Marilyn Walters, Timothy Watson and Jeffrey Wells.

They call Mrs. Phyllis Queener's (in center) dolls the "letter people" and children at Quirk Kindergarten used them to learn the alphabet. There are, of course, 26 dolls - one for each letter of the alphabet, and these "letter people" have definite personalities. For example, Mr. Z has 7 zipping zippers as part of his clothes, and Mrs. J. is covered with jumbled junk. The dolls go with Alpha-Time curriculum, used in all Van Buren kindergarten classes. The plastic inflatable "Huggables" that are suggested for use were just not sturdy enough for the children to really use and hug, school officials noted. The dolls will get plenty of hugging, and there was, of course, a special hug from all Quirk kindergarteners for Mrs. Queener.

Romulus resident gets NRA certification

Romulus resident, Kendall B. Carr, has successfully completed the National Rife Association Class C Rifle Coaches School, held recently in Waterford, Michigan.

This school, sponsored in Michigan by the Oakland County Sportsmen's Association, was designed by the NRA in its capacity as National Governing Body for the Shooting Sports, to educate coaches at the grassroots level. Upon successful meeting course criteria, these coaches will be responsible for training young athletes, many of whom will strive in conventional and international competitions.

Thirty students attended the extensive 20-hour instruction period which included topics such as the philosophy and psychology of coaching, how to motivate young athletes, skill fundamentals, basic coaching methods, and error identification and correction.

Many of these newly-trained coaches will have the opportunity to instruct at the forthcoming Michigan State Junior Olympic Shooting Camp.

GRADUATION

When you were just a little tot
Not more than five years old,
You said goodby to Mom and Dad
And waited in the cold.

Soon a yellow school bus
Would come along the way
"It will only be a little while"
You would hear your Mother say.

First she'd hold you close to her
Through, she knew that you must go.
What the future held in store,
There was no way to know.

Then up those giant steps you'd climb
To sadly find a seat,
Then off to seek that kindergarten
Somewhere down the street.

"It will only be a little while"
Was more than twelve long years,
Preparing minds and bodies
For a life time of careers.

This portion of your life you gave
Let not it be in vain.
Help your God and country
Excel in all your gain.

Your schooling days are over now.
You'll soon be on your own.
Most of your decisions
You will have to face alone.

There isn't always Mom and Dad
Nor teacher you can face.
The independence that you won
You will need to take their place.

Graduation day is for you a dedication.
To honor your achievements
In the field of Education.

Though, never let this day
Be the end of all your school,
For, the day that you stop learning,
You're the worlds greatest fool.

— Ed Kind

E. Roesers observe golden anniversary

A surprise party honoring the golden wedding anniversary of Elmer and Georgina Roeser of Van Buren Township was held June 20 at their home at 7830 Hannan Road.

Celebrating the special occasion with their parents were Carol Roeser Stephens and her husband, Myrle, of Bridgeport and Roy Roeser and his wife, Jeannine, of Van Buren Township, and also the couple's five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Elmer Roeser and Georgina Klages of Chesley, Ont., Canada, were united in marriage June 25, 1982 at St. Paul American Lutheran Church in Dearborn. Residents of this community ever since, the pair maintained a 30-acre truck farm as the main source of their income for many years. Mr. Roeser worked for the Ford Motor Company for a short time and also drove school bus for Van Buren School for 12 years, retiring in 1971.

The couple belong to the Farm Bureau and St. Paul Lutheran Church. Mr. Roeser also served on the election board for several years.

The dinner party included the immediate family, guests from Ann Arbor and Mrs. Roeser's sister, Mrs. Mabel Howie of St. Catherine, Ont., Canada. Among the gifts, cards and letters received by the honored pair were congratulations from President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan.

Versatile salads for every occasion

With more people on-the-go and eating light, salads have come into focus as viable alternatives to heavy meals. And what better time to try inventive salad ideas than on busy weekends? The Kraft Kitchens have created these two salad recipes which would fit well in the weekend schedule.

Fresh vegetables fill the center of a unique mold featuring cooked rice, salmon, celery, and Kraft creamy cucumber dressing in this recipe for Salmon 'N Rice Salad. This is a great one-dish meal that's both appetizing and colorful.

For a special Sunday dinner, this recipe for Spinach Salad, provides just the right touch for the first course. Kraft Italian dressing is the perfect match for fresh spinach leaves tossed with crumbled bacon, chopped hard-cooked egg, and onion rings.

Salmon 'n Rice Salad

3 cups cooked rice
1 7¾-oz. can salmon, drained, flaked
½ cup celery slices
½ cup Kraft creamy cucumber dressing
¼ cup chopped pimiento
¼ cup green onion slices
⅛ teaspoon pepper

1 cup cherry tomato halves
½ cup chopped cucumber

4 to 6 servings.

Variation: One 6¾ or 7-oz can of tuna may be substituted for salmon.

It has been said that English is the richest language in the world; the richest because it has borrowed freely from virtually every other language spoken on the face of the earth.

Some words and phrases are gleaned from other tongues, still others are the products of quick-witted inventiveness. Much of our verbage can be traced centuries back to the Romans, Normans, Vikings, Angles and Saxons.

Everyday words like leg, freckle, root, seat, gate are contributions from the Vikings as are awkward, ugly, rotten, ill, odd.

Among those from the courtly world of the Normans are more elegant bits such a palace, castle, beauty, mansion.

Later, as English explorers and traders established the British Empire, they "lifted" thousands of words from the peoples with whom they did business. From India came madras, punch, faker, bungalow; from the seemingly perennial wars with the Dutch the words schooner, scum, landscape, freight were produced while Spain supplied armada (of course), potato, cargo, tobacco, hurricane. France contributed bombast, progress, volunteer, bizarre. You just didn't realize how many foreign words you were speaking, did you?

The next great stage in the expansion of English came with the colonization of America and early settlers had to invent a lot of Americanisms in order to describe unfamiliar circumstances surrounding them in the new world. From the Indians they soon copied raccoon, opossum, moose, squash, pecan, hickory, transforming Indian dialects into familiar English sounds — otcheck turning into woodchuck and seganku into skunk.

After the Dutch settled New Amsterdam we were enriched by cole slaw, spook, dope, waffle and, of course, Santa Claus. Interestingly enough, the very first Yankees were Dutchmen for "yankee" was derived from the name Jan (Yon) and kees (cheese), so the word originally was a derisive nickname John Cheese.

The American cowboy took much of his lingo from his Mexican-Spanish counterpart including desperado, bronco, coyote, cinch, stampede, rodeo. A couple words taken from Spanish during the earlier colonial period are two we use every summer: mosquito and barbeque. See what a linguist you are!

A most fantastic growth in our language was made following World War II when hundreds of scientific words were born and scores came into everyday use. It's hard to believe but "radar" was a military secret until 1945; transistors were known only in laboratories until 1955; laser and maser are products of post-1960 research and quasar first appeared in 1964.

And just think how multi-lingual you are when you weave into your vocabulary such words as chauvinism, aperitif, avant-garde, bon voyage, haute couture, bon vivant (French); aficionado, manana, hacienda, (Spanish); gesundheit, blitzkrieg, schmaltz, (German); skoal, slalom, smorgasbord (Danish, Norwegian, Swedish).

As to phrases which we pretty much take for granted, there's the description "cordon bleu" which came to be questioned just recently after we'd order veal with that designation (more often it's chicken) at a Toledo eatery.

Here's the explanation according to the Morris Dictionary: If you're eating in a fine restaurant and have the services of a cordon bleu chef, you're being offered a truly fine cuisine. Cordon bleu means "blue ribbon," and the blue ribbon has long been the sign of supremecy.

In the days when ocean liners vied with each other to win the title of fastest ship on the transatlantic run, the award was a blue ribbon and the ship was then billed as the "blue-ribbon winner."

The color blue has been associated with royalty and power ever since ancient times when gods and goddesses were believed to live in the heavens up above the blue skies.

In England the highest order of knighthood is the Order of the Garter, represented by a blue ribbon. In France, the Knights of the Holy Ghost wore an insigne suspended from the neck by a cordon blue. In years past, these knights, like many other Frenchmen, developed tastes for fine foods and wines. When they were served especially superb food, they rewarded the chef by calling his meal un repas de cordon blue and decorating him with a blue ribbon. That's how the highest order of French chefs came to be called masters of cordon bleu cuisine.

EXIT GEMINI, ENTER CANCER

Born between June 21 and July 22? You're a cancer, the sign of the crab, and share the distinction with the likes of singer Anne (Snow Bird) Murray, who was 37 on the 20th — the same birthday as Chet Akins, who was 58.

The first day of summer, June 21, is a special day for best supporting actress for 1981, Maureen Stapleton, who was 57; for Ralph (John Walton) Waite, who turned 53; Mariette (Polaroid) Hartley, who reached 42; Jane (The Outlaw) Russell, who was 61; and Meredith Baxter-Birney, whose year-of-birth is not listed.

Kris Kristofferson made his way into the world 46 years ago on June 22 and 13 years later Lindsay Wagner made her debut.

Today June Carter just may be serenaded by another famous Carter on her 53rd birthday —the sameday Bert Convy will be marking his 43rd.

Comedian Jack Carter and Phil (That's What I Like About the South) Harris could toast each other on their 59th and 76th birthdays, respectively, should they run into each other someplace around Las Vegas or Hollywood.

June (Lassie) Lockhart and singer Carly Simon, born 20 years apart, will blow out 57 and 37 candles on their respective birthday cakes on June 25. And the next day is a biggie for Eleanor Parker who'll chalk up number Six-Oh.

Now, according to the those-in-the know, Cancerians are the original creatures of desire and have more cravings than they can handle.

They have a way of anticipating someone's needs before they happen and of offering unsolicited services before anyone has a chance to ask. They are perpetual good Samaritans who never feel they do enough.

Because of this trait, they are a lot more vulnerable than the average person and should be careful that their generousity and services are not taken for granted. Despite their goodness, they are completely insensitive to those around them who might be ill or incompacitated; they've no patience with sick people.

They need a lot of love to keep them happy and are prepared to give back more than their share in return. Cancer women are highly sentimental and happiest when being thought of and catered to.

They are also their own worst enemies and are at the mercy of their moods, a slave to sensitivities and a miserable victim of the full moon. They can be the sweetest, most understanding people one moment and in the next can turn into cold, critical barracudas, often taking their hurt feelings out on innocent bystanders.

They are softies with sympathy for the underdog and not only offer aid to friends who're underprivileged and deprived but will give a handout to a stranger on the street who might ask for one.

They have highly creative imaginations that could bring them recognition in the arts. They are hardworking, highly organized individuals and make excellent but critical executives. Work with the public in politics or economics is often quite appealing and they could also become financial tycoons, film producers, art dealers or real estate brokers.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Happiness is finding a current magazine in the doctor's waiting room.

Lancasters honeymoon in Hawaiian Islands

Candlelight set the mood May 15 for the five o'clock ceremony which united Bonnie Dingman and Randal Lancaster in holy matrimony. Some 250 guests witnessed the double ring rite conducted by The Rev. Lonnie England at Calvary Baptist Church in Romulus.

The daughter of Stuart and Virginia Dingman of 42037 Expressway, Belleville, the bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. For her wedding day she chose to wear a traditional white gown designed with a sweetheart neckline, long full sleeves and a tiered bouffant skirt which drifted into a chapel train. The Chantilly lace creation was accessoriezed by a veil of silk illusion which fell to mid-back length from a little lace cap and a bouquet comprised of silk white carnations and roses.

Peach qiana gowns with V-necklines were selected for the quintet of attendants; maid of honor, Linda Conrad of Belleville; Chris Hennesy of Boyne City; Cathy Dingman and Peggy Lancaster of Belleville, sisters-in-law of the bride and bridegroom respectively; and Patty Perdue, also of Belleville. The group wore combs with silk flowers in their hair and held white fans adorned with silk flowers.

Three-year-old Heather Summers was the petite flower girl and the bridegroom's nephew, Lane Lancaster, three, was ringbearer.

The bridegroom, the son of Richard and Doris Lancaster of 12970 Hannan Rd., Romulus, asked the bride's brother, Dan Dingman of Belleville, to serve as best man. Others on the esquire side were Van Lancaster of Romulus; and Perry Dingman, Jim Lancaster and Mark Lancaster, all brothers of the bridal pair from Belleville.

At the reception which followed at the Fandango Hall in Taylor the 300 friends and relatives were greeted by Mrs. Dingman in a long apricot chiffon gown and beige accessories. Mrs. Lancaster wore for her son's wedding a formal mocha brown dress with beige accessories. Both were honored with peach rose wrist corsages.

The newlyweds, now making their home in Belleville, spent their two week honeymoon in Hawaii.

The new Mrs. Lancaster is manager of Dingman's Lite House in Monroe where her husband is employed by Dingman Electric. Both are Belleville High School graduates and he is a former member of the U.S. Army.

The rehearsal party was held at the Richard Lancaster home in Romulus.

DISLOCATION OF THE LOWER JAW

Mohammed Ali once lost a major fight when his lower jaw was dislocated by a smashing right hand punch. This can happen from a severe blow — but it can also happen in the most insidious ways. Many jaw dislocations occur after a wide yawn, or biting hard on a large piece of food. It cannot happen unless the jaws are open, except in the case of a blow to the jaw.

The lower jaw is attached to the base of the skull by two sliding-hinge joints, located in the front of each ear. When the jaw becomes dislocated, the ball slips outside the socket, and it cannot slide back again. The symptoms are simple to diagnose; the patient simply cannot close his mouth.

The important thing here is not to panic. Go directly to the dentist who may be able to replace the dislocated jaw properly in a simple office visit.

It is rare that dislocation occurs in healthy mouths. Most cases have previous joint pain or clicking sounds, a poor bits, or a combination of these symptoms. That's why it's so important to correct these dental symptoms before big problems occur.

our opinions

Are school elections becoming a farce?

There has been a lot of breast-beating in these parts by those who have discovered the process of "recall". In these parts, there are three school districts — the Wayne-Westland Community, Inkster and Van Buren — along with one governmental body, the Van Buren Township Board — that are targeted for recall elections.

The voters in those school districts and that particular township are apparently disenchanted with their elected officials. Voters oust people in office; obviously voters have the right to change their minds and oust them from office.

At present, each side is mounting forces to prove the other wrong.

In one sense we are happy to see the electorate involved in the democratic process. We applaud them for raising issues, demanding answers and asking for accountability.

Ironically, however, it is something we would like to see done only rarely in these parts. It is fashionable these days, when one disagrees with the people in office, to threaten them with recall. When one can bring down a President of the United States, then why not a trustee on the board of education or township trustee or council member?

We have a better idea, and — we are the first to admit — it isn't original.

Instead of wasting taxpayers' monies to set up special elections — which basically all recalls are — go out and vote during the regular election. Get involved in your community. Your party. And, if you don't agree with the philosophy of your party, then form your own.

The glaring conclusions of the recent June 14 School elections are that only a few, a very few, take the time to vote.

Would you believe, that less than 10 percent of the 15,100 registered voters in the Van Buren Community School District actually cast their ballot?

Would you believe that approximately 10 percent of the voters in the Wayne-Westland Community School District did likewise?

Would you believe that there wasn't an area school district which had more than 15 percent of its eligible voters turn up to vote?

Think about that.

We have.

County's 1-mill levy proposal questioned

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has been taken to task by many, and rightly so in my opinion, for placing on the August 10th ballot the request for one mill increase in county taxes.

Given the state of the economy and the recent increases in state income taxes, Detroit income taxes on residents and non-residents and the recent increase in property taxes caused by the state equalized valuation (which I voted against, and tried to roll back to the 1981 level), I opposed this in both our Ways and Means Meeting and our Full Board Meeting.

Commissioner Arthur Blackwell of Highland Park made a motion to place the one mill on the ballot and to cancel the layoffs of approximately 700 county employees which had been scheduled for June 14th if no concessions had been granted by the employees through their unions.

In my opinion those were two separate issues and should have been voted on separately. I could not gather enough votes for separation, so very reluctantly voted in favor of the motion — stating in both meetings my opposition to the millage — but wanting to cancel the layoffs because of the drastic effect on county services of the layoffs went through.

Wayne County has long since cut through the fat — through the muscle — and is now into the bone, as the following figures will indicate:

$376 Million total Wayne Co. budget in 1976
285 Million total Wayne Co. budget in 1982
$ 91 Million budget reduction in just six years.

5,900 Wayne County employees in 1976
3,900 Wayne County employees in 1982
2,000 reduction in employees in just six years.

(An interesting comparison to the state is that Wayne County had 7,500 employees in 1970 and was down to 5,500 employees in 1978, while the state had 45,700 employees in 1970 and was increased to 67,600 employees in 1978; a 48% increase in state employees and a 26% decrease in county employees.)

Added to our woes, the governor, by executive orders, has eliminated this year $1 million in revenue sharing that is due to the county by law — and the state is also requiring us to expend an additional $5 million in child care funds that the state previously paid. (We along with several other counties are suing the state for recovery of these funds, on the grounds that these actions are a circumvention of the Headlee Act.)

Without this added $6 Million our current budget deficit would only be approximately $11 Million instead of about $16.8 Million. Contrast this with our deficit of some $21 Million in 1979 and it can be clearly seen that we have been reducing our deficit yearly — while at the same time the state, the dfederal government, the city of Detroit and others, have had a constantly ballooning budget dificit. Where and when, however, is this information ever given out by the major news media?

Returning to the layoffs — I was not willing to see county services decimated, such as the following, if the layoffs took place:

— The Jail Annex at M Building on the hospital grounds would be closed, and because the County Jail is filled to capacity, dangerous felons would have to be released, due to Sheriff's Deputies working at the Jail Annex being laid off.

— The Youth Home and the D.J. Healy Shelter would have to be closed and youths accused of serious crimes and also abused and neglected youngsters would have to be released, many to possible life-threatening situations, because the employees would be laid off.

— There would be great delays in picking up the bodies of persons killed in accidents and crimes, as well as other deaths, by the Medical Examiner's Office because of a serious cut back in the number of employees.

— The Prosecutor's Office could not prosecute criminals in a timely manner, thereby causing more back-ups in the jail population, and the possible release without trial of hardened criminals because of the lack of enough personnel caused by layoffs, and the problem that "Justice delayed is justice denied."

— Medical services at Wayne County General Hospital would be so reduced by the large layoff projected that the hospital would be unable to care properly for many that we are mandated by law to provide medical care for.

— The County Clerk's office would not be able to issue in a timely fashion birth certificates, death certificates, marriage licenses, assumed names for new businesses and organizations — causing untold hardships for many people, because of the reduction in staff.

Another point to remember is that Wayne County has never defaulted on a loan. In fact, last year we did not have to borrow against anticipated revenues and we did not have any delayed paydays, as we had twice the year before.

A serious fault of the major media, as I have pointed out to them frequently, is that their coverage of Wayne County is very superficial — they rarely, if ever, look beneath the surface at the causes of some problems. The fact that Wayne County has, in fact, been managing and reducing its deficit, in contrast to the other levels of government previously mentioned is ignored.

I deplore this attitude on the part of the major media and wish to thank our weekly newspapers, especially those of the Associated Newspapers chair, for having more balanced and objective coverage.

Right story, wrong head

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

When you're critical of each and every word you write, it's understandable that when a glaring error appears, at first you don't believe it, then you don't want to believe it.

After doing a post mortem on our Belleville-Romulus editions of a week ago, we discovered we had inadvertently made an error. Milton Mack, a Wayne attorney who is seeking to become the Wayne County Commissioner from the 11th Disttict, found himself running for another office.

Mack doesn't want the other office. He just wants to become the Wayne County Commissioner from the 11th.

And there is no doubt in this writer's mind that the young and articulate attorney is the frontrunner for that position.

"The story was correct," said Mack, a Wayne resident who serves as Mayor Pro Tem on the Wayne City Council. "It was the headline that was in error."

Fortunately, the error didn't appear in the Eagle editions of the Associated Newspapers.

A Democrat who is battling the Wayne County Road Commissioners over the legality of their newly formed "union", Mack views "the administrators' 'union' as open defiance of the will of the people who adopted the charter, and is a mockery of the labor movement in this state."

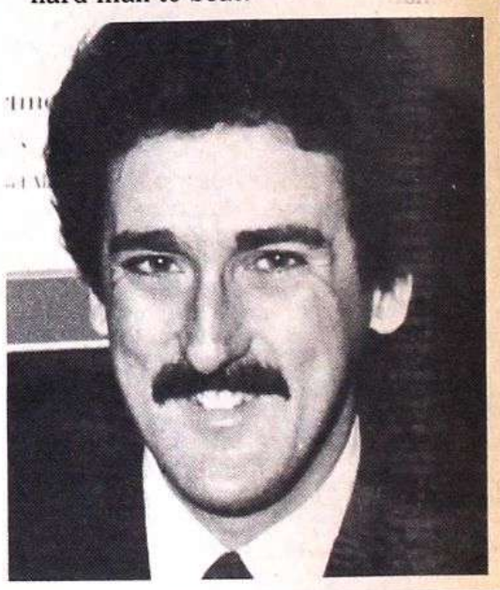
Mack, whose political comet is soaring, has pledged "to continue to work for reform of county government." He has the qualifications to accomplish his goals. An attorney for the past six years, Mack has earned his bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University and his law degree from Wayne State University.

Admittedly, although well known in the Wayne, Westland and Romulus areas, he will have to fight the hometown favorites who seek the same job. Belleville's Edward D'Angelo and Canton's Doug Ritter are among his staunchest opponents.

Effectively sharp in the public arena, Mack does his homework before (and not during) a controversy. It is here where he has the edge on most of his colleagues and rivals.

Mack believes that: "With the right elected leaders and with citizens who demand effectiveness — government, be it county, state or federal, can regain its dignity and purpose."

Mack obviously is going to be a hard man to beat.



It's time to stop the senseless killings

By RUSSELL SHAW
Secretary for Public Affairs, United States Catholic Conference

Most Americans were horrified by the news that an infant with Down's Syndrome was allowed to starve to death in April in a Bloomington, Ind., hospital in a decision supported by the county court and the state Supreme Court.

Horror is understandable. Surprise is not.

There are at least two reasons for saying this. First, the incident in Bloomington represents a logical extension of the legal and moral reasoning commonly used to support abortion.

Second, the Bloomington case, far from being unique, is another instance of a practice which many persons have warned was growing more common in this country.

Several years ago, Dr. C. Everett Koop, a prominent pro-life physician who is now the Surgeon General of the United States, spoke of "the extraordinary growth of infanticide and the change in attitude among those in a position to care."

A 1978 article in the Stanford Law Review said treatment is withheld or withdrawn from newborn infants with defects "thousands" of times a year in U.S. hospitals. In most of these cases, the infants are sedated and allowed to die by starvation.

"Allowed to die" is of course a verbal evasion. Many of these children would survive if given treatment and nourishment. In such circumstances the proper name for this practice is not "allowing to die" but "killing."

If the death of the Bloomington baby served any good purpose, it may have been to call public attention to this state of affairs. It is welcome news, for example, that President Reagan has instructed the Secretary of Health and Human Services and the Attorney General to enforce federal antidiscrimination provisions in the case of handicapped infants.

The death in Bloomington seems even to have rattled some longtime proponents of legalized abortion. Both the New York Times and the Washington Post published editorials against the decision. Observing that the United States is "wealthy" and "humane" enough to take care of its handicapped, the Post said: "Neither of these attributes is consonant with a court decision to allow a helpless Down's Syndrome infant to starve to death."

Plainly that is true. But plainly, too, the same considerations apply to the unborn children now being killed at the rate of 1.5 million a year in the United States by abortion. If it was wrong to kill the Bloomington baby after he was born, why would it have been right to kill him — as thousands of others are killed every week — before his birth? There is and can be no convincing answer to that question.

Particularly since the Supreme Court decisions on abortion, many persons have expressed concern about the erosion of respect for life in the United States. That such erosion has taken place is not a figment of the imagination but a fact. Nor are the reasons hard to understand.

For years the nation has been bombarded by the pro-abortion movement with bad arguments and rationalizations to support the destruction of unborn human life. These have been widely accepted. Now we have the Bloomington case to remind us that, once abortion is deemed acceptable, there is no compelling reason to draw the line there.

The United States Senate is expected soon to consider one or more proposals for dealing with the problem of abortion. A common sense reaction is that a problem of these dimensions calls for a constitutional remedy — the amendment sponsored by Sen. Orrin Hatch of Utah, which would restore to Congress and the states the power to restrict abortion.

It will be objected that the Bloomington baby did not die of abortion. That is true, but that is not the point. The Bloomington infant died as a result of an attitude and a state of law traceable to the Supreme Court abortion decisions and all that has followed.

The mother of a Down's Syndrome child spoke for many of us in one of the many letters to the editor occasioned by the Bloomington case: "A Down's baby's potential is not fixed at birth; it unfold gradually, just as for the rest of us. In Bloomington, a self-fulfilling prophecy occurred: expecting the baby to have a life not worth much, the parents and courts ensured that it would have a life worth nothing at all...All life involves some pain. Let us love these babies enough to help them unfold, even though it hurts."

No one, I think, could say it better than that.

Voters have had their say

EDITOR — The voters in the Wayne-Westland school District have expressed their desire to vote for Dewey V. Combs, as their School Board Representative.

Tom Barrett, the incumbent, with 16 years of service on the school board was defeated by a goodly margin. The years he served on the school board, didn't mean anything to the voters. It was a question of what he has accomplished during that time. The voters knew the answers.

The voters are well read, and informed and voted accordingly.

Superintendent Dr. Timothy Dyer in desperation summoned all the kings horses, and all the kings men and no matter how hard he tried to rescue Tom Barrett it was all in vain.

The empire nor the Taj Mahal that Dr. Dyer built is slowly but surely crumbling on all sides.

All the endorsements (53 at last count) that Tom Barrett received, included Congressman William D. Ford, Senator Bill Faust, and the lesser so-called politicians from the city of Wayne and Westland went for naught. Also the high pressure tactics that were used and the 12 inch rulers that were given away at the polls didn't sway the voters one bit.

While working at the polls a student approached me, and made the following remark:

"My teachers told the kids that if Dewey Combs would be elected, he will take away our gym class." I asked the student to give me the teachers name. And he replied, "Do you think I'm dumb? I don't want to get my teacher in trouble."

So remember voters, this September you will have to cast your vote again to elect at least one more candidate to have a majority on the school board to represent the people of this community. Not the special interest groups.

Teachers are power hungry

EDITOR — The scandalous teachers' involvement in politics at the Wayne-Westland Board of Education race is a disgrace to our teaching profession. It is obvious that teachers' obsession with power is not to the best interest of the community.

Incumbent Thomas Barrett depended upon the teachers just as did former President Jimmy Carter who promised the teachers an unique self-operating Department of Education.

Of course Jimmy was defeated despite the effort, and so was Thoms Barrett.

I am afraid the teaching profession has become a political power rather than devotion to education and its true purpose. There was a time when teachers were forbidden to participate in campaigns and the nation was higher in standards than it is today. I am convinced that teacher involvement in unions and politics has destroyed our educational system. It is hurting mostly the students, who someday will become masters or victims of destiny.

Not only have teachers scandalized their profession, but have become an uncalled for burden to the taxpayers. It is not only a local but nation-wide problkem. They have been accumulating political power at taxpayers' expense and touch all aspects of the citizen's life with immunity to accountability. For years now teachers have been forming a bureaucratic oligarchy of their own. They have acted as a ruling class rather than part of a democracy. They have become so steep in atheistic ideas, that they have forgot God. They have inserted secular socialism and violated the Christian principles of the Constitution founded by God-loving settlers.

There should be a law against teachers participating in politics. There should be a law against teachers' advocates to re-introducting a defeated millage proposal every few months until the voters submit. The "No" vote should be equal in length as a "yes" vote. In conclusion, may I compliment Glenn Anderson for writing an excellent editorial. The Associated Newspapers for publishing same, the readers and voters for discernment and Dewey Combs for breaking the barrier.

Are teachers 'so evil?'

EDITOR — After getting home from the Combs-Barrett debate organized by the Wayne Democratic Club, I found myself very disappointed.

I am very curious as to why people like Mrs. Rosemary Miller and Mrs. Runion are so anti-teacher. Teachers don't destruct, they build society. They taught us how to read, and write, and more.

I learn a lot in school, whether it be in biology, a foreign language, math, or anything else, thanks to teriffic teachers. They are also that extra friend when you need them.

I stood up at the debate and spoke my mind. Most non-teachers made it obvious that they disapproved of what they heard from me. But, I did find people who appreciated what I said. Before me, a girl from Wayne H.S. spoke out for the teachers. I applaud her and hope to talk to her some time.

Please, someone tell me why teachers are so evil. Am I missing out on something?

MORTON A. POTTER II

Were Romulus voters fair?

EDITOR — As everyone knows, the millage renewal issue for Romulus Schools was defeated on June 14. I wish the community would open their eyes and see what they have done to the students in the community.

I am a student attending Romulus High School, and I know I can speak for a lot of students when I say that the community is being very unfair.

I really don't think everyone realized what the consequences of a defeated millage are: Band physical education, drama club, choir, and more classes along with extra-curricular activities will be cut from the Romulus Schools. (Romulus Jr. High has already had to cut almost all of these activities).

Last, but not least, the school day may well be cut in half. It's bad enough we only have five hours, but what will happen when we only have two or three? Doesn't anyone realized how this will limit our education?

I realize times are tough now; with few jobs available, money is hard to come by. Yet, a defeated millage will diminish our education. Will we get accepted to a decent college without an adequate high school diploma?

Of course we thank all of you who voted yes, for you understand the importance of our schools. And you also understand the effects this could have on our lives in the future.

We're working hard at our end, but how about those of you who voted no? What have you done for your schools?

Another rule on garage sales

EDITOR — My letter is in response to a column in the Associated Newspapers June 10th edition.

Mona Grigg's column about garage sale etiquette was very informative, however, no mention was made of what I, an owner of a corner lot, would think would be "Rule #1".

When posting signs on someone else's "private property", it should be common courtesy to ask the owners of that property for permission before they post their garage sale or other signs. Some people do not want their property to be used as a community billboard by inconsiderate garage sale trespassers and their signs that they almost never come back for!

Personally, I would not mind if someone had the decency to ask me if I would mind them posting their signs on my property; however, in the 11 years that I have been a property owner in the city of Wayne I have never met anyone yet with enough common sense to do so!

From now on I have one set rule of my own: Those that don't ask. Don't use (my property)!

One rule for those that may ask is this: Please don't nail directly into any of my trees.

Please print this so that future sign posters will realize that the nearest corner lot with a few trees on it is not there for the sole purpose of hanging their signs on. (which they always seem to do with the largest nails they can find.)

Thank you for your time, I hope this letter turns a few inconsiderate trespassers into friendly neighbors instead of neighborhood antagonists.

Trip that didn't materialize

EDITOR — On Wednesday June 9, in a conversation with Mrs. Hunter, manager of the Van Buren Convalescent Home, we discussed the feasibility of bringing residents of the home into Belleville to view the Strawberry Festival parade. Mrs. Hunter said that the residents would be delighted at the chance of getting out and mingling with the merry-makers.

I immediately set out to accomplish the aforementioned. I would like to thank the following for their community minded spirit in this project.

Tom Welty, Treasurer of Van Buren Township, for cutting "red-tape" to allow the use of township vans to transport the residents to the line of march on Main Street, Belleville.

Ted Dyer and Nick Savage of the Belleville-Van Buren Loyal Order of the Moose for volunteering their members to drive the vans and move the residents from the Home in the vans to the line of march and return them to the Home.

Members of the Board of Directors of the Strawberry Festival, Leona VonBuhler, Lillian Carlson, Betty Jarett who assisted in allocating a special area for the residents to view the parade.

Belleville Police Chief, Willard "Doc" Dockter for permission to allow the vans carrying the residents to the viewing area to go thru the barriers closing off Main Street and the offer of a Policeman to keep the area free of other merry-makers.

Mr. Buzzy of the Taylor Ambulance Service who would alert the area para-medics in case of need.

Area residents Helen McNally, Billie Welty and my wife Kay who volunteered to assist in feeding lunch to the residents.

Ron Hink for the use of a parking area for the vans.

Imagine my dismay when I called Mrs. Hunter at the Convalescent Home on Friday June 11, and she told me to call the project off. The residents were uninterested in attending the Strawberry Festival.

I had to retrace my telephone calls and cancel all plans.

My thanks to the cooperation of the volunteers. Maybe next year.

Newspaper did fine job

EDITOR — I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation and that of other Canton business owners for the fine job your newspaper did during the controversial Canton Sign Ordinance issue.

I question just how far or how successful our campaign would have been if your people had not always been there at the right time. I don't believe they could have done a better job.

Consequently, the signs are now being installed with a resultant increase in customer traffic. During these rough economic times every little bit helps and your newspaper helped make it possible by presenting both sides and allowing the merits of the campaign to dictate the outcome.

Thank you.

Fathers and Grandfathers

JOYCE HAGELTHORN

The storm has passed, and as I write this I look out of the window at the sunshine covering the land with a cool benignity, if there is such a thing.

I have just crawled through the living room, gingerly stepping over cowboys and Indians, and rubber soldiers, brushing against the Webber grill, golf shirts and lots of tools, with which six children and their spouses and THEIR children celebrated the fact that they were here because of Father.

And Father sat in his chair and surveyed the melee and it was hard to tell whether he was pleased or just enduring. And since it was father's day, he dispensed with the rule we have always had, that the TV set goes off when we have company, and he got his long, lean body up from the chair and turned on the golf tournament, which he seemed to enjoy in spite of one grandson practicing his flute in the den, and one grandson hanging from the chandelier in the dining room.

When the storm descended, the other grandson's brought in the horseshoe set and wanted to set it up in the dining room, only their mean orgre of a grandmother wouldn't let them, and tried to get them to get interested in something quiet like reading.

Six grandchildren swirled around the house, and perched on the ottoman at her father's feet was the daughter holding to her heart the little one who will make it seven.

And while everyone kept watching the hands creeping around the face of the clock, slowly ticking off the day the new one was supposed to be here, the next to the newest bride of the family, spread her skirts around her and said it was time to call her husband. our B-52 pilot. And everyone got on all the extensions, except the day's celebrant, who was too interested in whether Watson or Nicklaus was going to win the Open.

Finally, someone stuck the phone up to his ear, and then he came alive long enough to greet this kid of his, who is most like him.

"Dad, ask him what's new," the kid's wife kept saying. But he kept on talking about flying and didn't hear her, because the ear she was talking into was tuned into the golf game.

"Dad, aks him what's new," she begged again.

"ASK HIM WHAT'S NEW," one of the other kids shouted, getting the message that the little wife had something special to impart.

"Oh, what's new?" the celebrant finally asked, and the pilot said, "Not much."

"WHAT do you mean by 'not much?' shrieked the pilot's wife. And she started patting her tiny tummy which wasn't even showing under her brightly colored skirt.

"Are you going to have a baby?" shrieked the very first daughter in-law to have come to our house.

"Are you psychic?" someone asked her, after Sharon, the pilot's wife, nodded her head, her eyes shining, and her smile wrapping itself around everyone near her.

"Oh," said her father-in-law into the telephone, ignoring the hugging and laughing and shouting going on behind him. "You aren't flying today, eh?"

"DAD," the mother-to-be of the seventh grandchild due any minute called, "Allan is going to be a father!"

"I beg your pardon," her father answered, turning from the telephone and staring at her.

Minutes passed, and then comprehension dawned as he tried to divide his senses between Watson's 'chip-into-the hole' and the news his kids were trying to tell him.

"You're going to have a WHAT?" he asked into the telephone.

"A probable transfer," his laughing pilot said.

"A BABY," his daughter-in-law shouted.

Someone took the telephone from him, and leaned back in his chair, his eyes following Watson birdying the 18th hole to claim the championship, and no one in the room knew for sure just what he was feeling about an eighth little kid coming into the family.

That is, no one really knew but me. I saw the slow, steady grin start across his sun-tanned face, and I saw the glisten in his blue-blue eyes.

And I knew that even through plastic horseshoes were wrapping him around the neck, and the sounds of a flute drifted in from the den and mingled with the sudden blast of the organ when two year old fingers found the red turn-on button, and laughter and talk reached the absolute zenith of sound, there is something about knowing a new life has been formed and is about to become part of the whole, that grabs you and twists at your heartstrings.

And that is what Father's Day is all about.

mona grigg

On becoming a father

MONA GRIGG

On Father's Day, one of the nieces I talked about a while back had her baby.

A girl, 7 lbs., 14 oz.

Mother and daughter doing fine, thank you.

Father doing even better.

Not only did this father, a mere snit of a boy (from this perspective, anyway) assist in the delivery room, he actually took snippers in hand and cut the cord.

What a Father's Day present!

Still, what in the world is this world coming to?

Wasn't it just yesterday that fathers, cigar box in hand, while away the birthing period pacing the floor of the waiting room until a nurse stuck her head in the door and called his name?

Any self-respecting father of my acquaintance (and my generation) would have fainted at the mere thought of being within 10 feet of the delivery room, let alone the thought of being inside cutting the cord.

Some couldn't even make it to the hospital, preferring instead to wait it out at the local pub, where rounds of beer and sympathy neatly stayed the jitters.

As I remember, too, nobody thought the worst of the jittery fathers-to-be. That was the way life was before Lamaze.

The prospective father's main role in the grand finale was to stay out of the way. He almost always had plenty of dimes on hand for phone calls. Making phone calls reporting on the progress — or lack of — was the modern equivalent to boiling water. (Someone once asked a country doctor of what use was boiling water and he said, "To keep the fathers busy until I get my work finished.")

I don't know who came up with the bright idea of letting fathers into the delivery room. It couldn't have been anyone of my age (or gender). Most women my age would sooner have had their babies squatting in a field than ever let a man — even one of such intimate acquaintance — watch the goings on behind those doors. (The doctor was different. After having seen so many women in that position before, if he had seen one, he had surely seen them all.)

And if men weren't allowed in the delivery room, they surely weren't allowed at baby showers. Now things are different here, too. They even help open the gifts, for heaven's sake!

When we were having babies, the rule was that the arrival of the honoree's husband signalled the end of the shower. He was allowed maybe five minutes of congratulatory time and a piece of cake before he began loading gifts into the car.

If it sounds heartless, believe me, it wasn't. The husband didn't want to be there any more than the women wanted him to.

I'm glad for my niece and proud of her husband. They prepared for that glorious, intimate moment and shared in it as they had planned. She didn't panic; he didn't faint. It all went off without a hitch.

It was terrific.

I'm glad it wasn't me.

My husband is equally glad it wasn't him.

Midwest champ

An outstanding athlete throughout his four-year prep career at Taylor Center, Inkster's Earl Jones ended a brilliant track career last week by placing first at the Meet of Champions in the 1,600 meter run and also took part in the mile relay. Jones is considered one of the finest distance runners produced in the area and owns the Great Lakes 8 Conference records for the one and two-mile runs.

Jones strikes gold at Meet of Champions

Earl Jones of Inkster captured a first place in the 1600 meter run at the Midwest "Meet of Champions" staged at Spuller Stadium in Fort Wayne, Ind. last week.

Jones and other winners received congratulations from Harvey Glance, a four-time NCAA dash champion and 1976 Gold Medal Olympian.

Jones, an Inkster resident, is a graduating senior at Taylor Center High School where he was coached and trained by Coach Michay Turchak.

The 9th annual Midwest Meet attracted 3,700 high school senior top athletes from Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio.

Romulus 'A' leader is perfect

Exploding for seven runs in the first inning, league-leading Romulus City Drugs jolted Angie's 15-4 to remain undefeated in seven starts in the Romulus Men's Class A Softball League.

Winning pitcher Mike McCloskey scattered nine Angie hits, serving up a roundtripper to Rob Prestia, to chalk up the victory. A. Jose had a single and double for the losers whose record dipped to 1-5 on the season.

Larry Shesnd drilled a homer and drove in two runs for the winner, while losing pitcher Terry Hoffman also had his problems with Don McMann who latched on to three singles. Whaley belted a double and a pair of singles in a winning cause and mate Lyn Wiltsie also homered.

In other Class A action, Demyan Antiques held on to a close 14-13 victory over last year's champ, Captain Nemo, as the winners banged out 25 hits off of loser D. Richards. Richards served up three hits to Cichowski, Maveal and Smith who also doubled.

Steve Thornsberry surrendered 16 hits to Nemo's including a circuit clout to Rob Summerick. Ken Summers collected three hits, and Steve Pokerwinski stroked a single, double and triple.

Golden Eagle rallied for two runs in the seventh inning but fell short 6-4 in its match with Bilal's Barber. Winning pitcher K. Gibson gave up 11 hits, including a triple and single to Gorney. Collins also checked in with a pair of hits, including a double for the losers.

Griffin was tagged for 16 safeties by the winners and leading the assault were Brown, who had a single, double and triple, Studmire, who had a couple of singles and a double, Lee and John Haley who each turned in with two hits.

Over in Class B, Brooks and Perkins remains the team to beat as the undefeated league-leader humbled All-Star Excavating 18-6 behind a 23-hit assault led by Melvin Allen and Mike Nielson. Allen laced three singles and a double, while Nielson had three hits. Mates Tom Schick and Bob Miller split four hits.

Winning pitcher Joe Kittle gave up 12 hits, two each to Don LaLonde, Brad Phillips and Modzelowski.

Middlebelt Bar rallied for four runs in the bottom of the seventh but dropped a 10-9 thriller to Walter's which fattened its record to 4-3 on the season. Walter's struck for six runs in the fourth inning then hung on as Middlebelt refused to quit thanks to Bill Wiper who knocked in four runs with a double and homer. Craig Soltic also collected two hits off of winning pitcher R. Davis.

Walter's received two hits each from Tollus, Huggard and Formold who also tripled and carded 2 RBI's.

In other Class B action, Silver Bar erupted for 19 hits and eight runs (in the first inning) to turn back Anglin's Earthmovers. Scotty Knight and R. Facione paced the winner's attack at the plate with three hits apiece, while Bill Coffe rammed one ball over the fence for a homer and also singled.

Mark Bratcher and Lemieux also checked in with two hits each off of loser Steve Pell.

Rob Hover was credited with the victory, giving up 11 hits, including three singles to John Johnson, and a double and pair of singles to Mike Midduszewski. McCloskey finished up with a double and single.

Rains cut softball action

The weather made the "big news" in the Westland Parks and Recreation Softball Leagues as rains battered most of the schedules, leaving rec. officials in a quandary over "make-ups".

However, before the torrential waters wiped out most of last week's schedule, Royal Transmission managed to rally to a narrow 3-2 victory over Frankies in the Class A. League.

Royals came up with single tallies in the second, fourth and fifth innings to help pitcher Steve Patterson stash the decision away. Patterson, though, had his problems with Bob Smith who collected three hits, including a pair of doubles and a single.

Loser Darryl Gunter served up a double and triple to Marty Lozono who batted in two runs. Gary Truskowski had a double and Bob Killingbeck singled in the winning run for Royal's.

In the meantime, Great Lakes erupted for four decisive runs in the bottom of the seventh to pull out a clihanger, 6-5, from Newburgh Station. Losing hurler Ernie Righetti was working toward a hutout for five innings when he gave up two runs in the sixth, then lost it in the last inning.

Gary Sweer banged out three hits as did Pat Knapp for the winners while John Fargo chipped in with two singles for the winners.

Sweer, the winner, had a rough time with Righetti who scored twice after getting aboard on a triple and double. Don Whittner also had two singles for the losers.

Unbeaten W.A.O.A. stretched its winning streak to six games at the expense of the Jaycees, 14-1, as Dick Martin hammered a homer and three singles for the winner. Teammate Mike Deleo missed hitting for the cycle when he failed to get a roundtripper, but his single, double and triple produced four RBIs. Deleo also scored three times in the Community Organization League mismatch.

Dave Rietzel accounted for a double and a pair of singles for the defending champs.

Winning pitcher Dave Gillies gave up five hits - two each to Bill Jetchik and Jim McAllister, while Mike Keece had a run-scoring (first inning) single.

Over in the Class C Yellow Division, Westworld remained deadlocked for first place with Varsity Club after routing Bonnie Baker 11-5. Ed Crechiolo, Jim Souillere and Kurt Affholter each collected three hits off of loser Tony Kierschke.

Bonnie's came back from a 6-0 deficit in the third inning by scoring three runs but the winners put it away with a foiur-run fourth. Blaine Capparert latched on to three hits, including a double, while Don Yancik had a pair of doubles and a triple for the losers. Don Marek collected two singles.

Shooting Stars win title

Moore hurls no-hitter

With only one scar upon their record, Total Petroleum continued to set the pace in the Romulus Parks and Recreation Clas A Women's-Softball League.

Scoring four times in the firs tinning, Total crushed Puffer Red 9-3 for its fourth win in five starts. The league leader has a two game cushion over the runner-up whose record dropped to 4-3 on the year.

Anita Glaab, Diane Kamsen and Stella Hale each had two hits for the winners who belted 16 hits off of loser Sandy Holiday. Kamsen, the winning pitcher, gave up a pair of singles to Tona Gray, while Maria Franklin and Theresa Gilbson each had run-scoring sungles.

In other Class A action, Progressive Club held off F.X. Couglin to even up its record to 3-3. The winners came up with four runs in the top of the fifth and seventh.

Lori Gracyak paced the victors with three hits and drove in two runs. Teammates Kay Quirine and Lori Majdej checked for eight hits with Fulson, McDonald and Brown each laced singles.

Over in Class B, Angies Country Inn kept pace with league-leading Huron Merchants with a 11-7 victory over Airtrans Hustlers. Sharon McBride and J. Mooman each had two hits and Cindy Sanders belted a homer and collected thre RBIs off of loser Bev Carney.

Carney, Hamilton and Tracy Barnett each singled off of winner Mary Much.

Huron jolted Brooks Cartage, a team that has failed to find the win column after eight consecutive starts. The league-leader got a no-hitter from Moore, the first of the campaign.

Chesno was tagged for the loss as she gave up 10 hits, including a double and pair of singles to scarborough. Linda Moore and Marvaso split four hits.

Oestrike gets associate AD's job

Ronald E. Oestrike, head baseball coach at Eastern Michigan University, was promoted to associate director of Intercollegiate Athletics as part of a reorganization of the department approved by EMU's Board of Regents at its regular monthly meeting today (June 16).

Oestrike will continue to coach the varsity baseball team.

A native of Flat Rock and a 1954 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Oestrike earned his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1959.

In his 18 years as head coach of the Hurons, Oestrike, 50, has compiled a 529 - 362 - 6 career coaching record and has helped lead EMU to national prominence in collegiate baseball.

Oestrike has repeatedly been named to the "Top Twenty Baseball Coaches List" since its inception in 1978. He was named NCAA Division 1 National "Coach of the Year" in 1976 and has been named MAC "Coach of the Year" four times.

Under Oestrike, the Hurons have won Mid-American Conference crowns in 1975, 1976, and 1978 and have also won the MAC post-season playoff title the past two seasons. His teams have won regional crowns in 1975, 1976, and also competed in regional tournament action in 1978, 1981 and 1982.

Oestrike replaces Paul A. Shoults who was promoted to director of Intercollegiate Athletics at EMU.

His appointment is effective July 1.

Pine Creek

Food quality, informal atmosphere provide reasons to brag

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

"We've got the best Boston clam chowder in the area," the caller declared, "and people tell me that our ocean perch is comparable to that at the finest seafood restaurants."

Some pretty heavy claims, even coming from such a noted restaurateur as George Noble, now the general manager at the Pine Creek County Club in Van Buren Township.

Since opening last October, owner Frank Ziegler and Noble have done wonders with an 18-hole golf course (par three) and restaurant on a picturesque, 69-acre layout.

But the BEST Boston clam chowder? Perch comparable to that served at the finest seafood houses?

Don't sell Pine Creek short. After indulging in a lunch of fresh ocean perch, Boston clam chowder, salad and potato I've become a believer.

The soup features just the right combination of chopped clams, potatoes, bacon and onion for a distinctive taste. As for the 12-ounce ocean perch, this broiled fish seasoned with a special recipe that includes butter, lemon and paprika is worth bragging about.

Among the entrees at Pine Creek are porterhouse and strip steak, center cut pork chops, ham steak, chicken and chips, chopped sirloin, fish and chips and fresh fish, such as the perch and red snapper. Lunches range in price from $3.50—the perch is $3.75—to $7.50 while dinners run from $4.50 to $8.75 and include soup, salad and roll.

Other specials (stuffed green pepper, stuffed cabbage, roast beef and corned beef) are posted daily as well as the club special, which features a strip steak, salad, french fries and beverage for $4.95. Food is served daily from 8 a.m. until midnight with lunches starting at 11 a.m. and dinners at 5 p.m. An assortment of alcoholic beverages complement the meal.

And the atmosphere? As the saying goes, this is God's country, as diners view acres of rolling hills and greenery from large windows that help preserve the restaurant's rural look. An informal atmosphere permeates throughout the club, located at 50521 Huron River Drive, near the Rawsonville Road exit off I-94.

Ziegler, a retired engineer from Ford Motor Co., has put the golf course in excellent playing condition and does most of the manicuring of the greens himself. Weekday rate for 18 holes is $4.50, or $5.50 for weekends and holidays—discounts are available for senior citizens and juniors.

"We're in the process of building a terrace in front of the club," noted Ziegler, "and also expanding our kitchen to more than double its current size."

"Our club is designed with the family in mind," he added. "We encourage both golfers and non-golfers to visit us."

Featuring a staff of 25, Pine Creek Country Club can comfortably seat nearly 100 persons for banquets or special parties (call 483-5010 for reservations).

In charge of preparing the club's diversified menu are chefs Chris White and Pat Green and assistant Thelma Young. Diane Oestreich handles many of the bartending duties.

"Our goal is to be known as a fine food house, with excellent food complemented by liquors," Noble explained. During a career that spans nearly 30 years, Noble has operated such prestigious private clubs as the Garrison House in Garden City and the Colonial Club adjoining the Greenbrier Hotel in West Virginia.

"Once we've completed our kitchen expansion," said Noble, "we won't have any peers."

After last week's visit, I'm not about to dispute such boasts.

Johansen--'Live It Up'

DAVID JOHANSEN
"Live It Up"
(Blue Sky)

On record, David Johansen has never been able to decide if he wanted to be a hard rocker ("Funky But Chic") or the new Sinatra ("Big City").

Onstage, there's never been any identity crisis at all, because Johansen onstage today is a professional version of the Johansen that led the ill-fated New York Dolls through their years, which is to say, Rock & Roll!

So naturally, "Live It Up" is a rocking album that never stops, not even on relatively slow numbers like "Frenchette." The recording is very good (unlike the recent live Rolling Stones LP), and the band is in fine form, setting the stage for David's gutsy New Yawk vocals.

The set opens with a nifty medley of songs originally done by the Animals; "We Gotta Get Out Of This Place," "Don't Bring Me Down," and the anthemic "It's My Life." As a matter of fact, nearly half of the songs included here are cover versions, and it's to Johansen's credit that he didn't make a typical live album of songs culled from his own recent LP's.

Detroit is paid homage to with a blistering version of "Reach Out and I'll Be There," and also with his own Motown-style number, "Melody." Johansen told me that he wrote the song as a tribute to what was his favorite music while he grew up. He did it justice.

For me, the highlights are "Build Me Up Buttercup," which has been a favorite of mine since the Foundations originally did it in the late 60's, and "Funky But Chic," which is Johansen at his rockin' best, as well as his songwriting best.

For the encores, David goes back and pulls out — what else — old Dolls' numbers. First up is "Stranded In The Jungle" (an old song by the Cadets that the New York Dolls recorded for their second album), and the finisher is perhaps their best known number, and one that spoke for a lot of kids growing up in the apathetic early 70's: "Personality Crisis."

He sings "Personality Crisis, you got it while it was hot — It's always hot!" Yep, it is.

Amend Ordinance No. 20 as follows:

A) Section 02.70.10 is amended to read as follows:
10. Dwelling, One-Family: A building, STRUCTURE, MOBILE HOME OR PREFABRICATED, PREMANUFACTURED OR PRECUT STRUCTURE designed exclusively for and occupied exclusively by one (1) family.

B) Sections 11.20.01, 12.20.01, and 20.20.01 are amended to read as follows:
01. One-family dwellings.

C) A new Section 40.60.00 is to be added as follows:
01. A one-family dwelling and any additions or alterations thereto, erected or placed in the Township, other than mobile homes located in a licensed mobile home park approved under the provisions of Article XXV herein, shall conform to the following regulations in addition to all other regulations of this Ordinance:

It shall comply with all pertinent building, construction and fire codes for one-family dwellings.

The plan outline of the dwelling, including only heated living area, shall be large enough to contain within it a square of 20 feet on a side. This size requirement shall not make any house existing at the date of amendment nonconforming so that they cannot be enlarged or improved.

It shall be firmly attached to a permanent foundation constructed on the site in accordance with the State Construction Code and shall have a wall of the same perimeter dimensions of the dwelling, and constructed of such materials and type as required in the applicable building code for one-family dwellings. In the event that the dwelling is a mobile home, as defined herein, such dwelling shall be installed pursuant to the manufacturer's set up instructions and shall be secured to the premises by an anchoring system or device complying with the rules and regulations of the Michigan Mobile Home Commission, and shall have a permiter wall as required above.

In the event that a dwelling is a mobile home as defined herein, each mobile home shall be installed with the wheels removed. Additionally, no dwellings shall have any exposed towing mechanism, undercarriage or chassis.

It shall be connected to public sewer and water supply, if available, or if not available, to private facilities approved by the Wayne County Health Department.

It shall comply with all pertinent zoning, subdivision and other ordinances regulating use, floor area, lot size, setback, and yards in the zoning district in which it is located.

It shall comply with all pertinent building and fire codes. In the case of a mobile home, all construction and all plumbing, electrical apparatus and insullation within and connected to said mobile home shall be of a type and quality conforming to the "Mobile Home Construction and Safety Standards" as promulgated by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, being 24CFR 3280, and as from time to time such standards may be amended. Additionally, all dwellings shall meet or exceed all applicable roof snow load and strength requirements.

It shall be aesthetically compatible in design and appearance to homes in the neighborhood in which it is located. In the first instance, it shall be the responsibility of the Building Department to determine whether this standard is met. The Building Department may, in its discretion, refer the matter to the Zoning Board of Appeals for their determination. Any party aggrieved by an adverse decision by the Building Department may appeal to the Board of Appeals, which Board shall make the determination with findings, based upon its independent judgement, without reference to the standards for the granting of variances. The determination of compatibility shall be based upon the character, design, and appearance of residential dwellings located outside of mobile home parks within two-thousand (2,000) feet of the subject dwelling, where such area is developed with dwellings to the extent of not less than 20% of the lots situated within said area; or, where said area is not so developed, by the character, design and appearance of the residential dwelling generally found throughout the Township. The determination of compatibility shall also be based upon compliance with the following standards:

a) The dwelling shall have a combination of roof overhang and pitch comparable to the overhang and pitch of homes typically found in the neighborhood in which it is to be located.
b) The dwelling shall have a chimney that is constructed of material and style similar to those of other dwellings typically found in the neighborhood in which it is to be located.
c) The dwelling shall have steps and/or porches which provide access to exterior doors, which are permanently attached to the ground and to the structure, and which are comparable to steps and/or porches of homes typically found in the neighborhood in which it is to be located.
d) The dwelling and roof shall be covered with a material which is in composition, color, texture, malleability, direction of joints, and method of fastening to the structure comparable to those typically found in the neighborhood in which it is to be located.
e) The dwelling shall have windows located on the front sides and exterior doors either on the front and rear, or front and side, as generally found in homes in the neighborhood in which it is to be located.
